BUGLER AND BARKLEY DEFEAT RAINLAND IN MOUND CITY DERBY

Bugler galloped home easily in the stake, Barkley coming in an indifferent second, while Rainland, favorite in the event, beat Lord Haven, the sole remaining contender, for show money. Back further still came Owner Mose Goldblatt, hustling to the judges' stand with the claim that Troxler had not ridden to orders on the favorite. Goldbiatt claimed that Troxier had been told to avoid the soft spots on the course and to take his mount to the front. Troxler said that his ride had been according to instructions received from Goldblatt in the paddock and this statement was corroborated by M. J. Shann trainer for George Bennett, who said that he overheard the jockey's riding orders.

Troxler seld further that he could not take his mount to the front as Barkley outran Rainland on the back stretch After hearing both sides of the case, the Judges fined Goldblatt $300, exactly the amount of third money in the stake. Goldblatt, accordingly was out his entry and starting fee as a result of the race.
Rainland opened favorite in the race, but his price went-up from odds-on to even money at post time. Bugler was fairly well played at odds varying from 9 to 2 to 6 to 1, according to the estimation in which various bookmakers held the Hayes colt, while Barkley probably carried most money, with odd ranging around 8 to 5. At the start Lord Haven shot to the fore and set the pace to the far turn. Barkley following him on the outside, Budler rating along with his head at Lord Haven's flank and Rainland running bedde Eugler. At the far turn, Barkley leaped to the front, apparently jostling Lord Haven. Bugler was pinched off as the feld rounded the turn and lost two or three lengths. mount of third money in the stake. Gold-the field rounded the turn and lost two or three lengths.

As they straightened out for the run down the back stretch, Rainland went up abreast of Barkley and the two raced together to the stable turn, Busler passing Lord Haven as they rounded the curve. Rainland seemed to be running easily as he passed the stable turn, then suddenly stopped as if he had broken down. He lost several lengths in the next few strides, then straightened himself and went on.

as they neared the stretch turn, it was seen that Rainland was beaten and Barkley looked the winner. The Stevens colt seemed to be running nicely and turned for home with a good lead.

Then Austin shaved the corner closely on Bugier and set sail for the leader. He caught him an eighth out and for a few strides they ran neck and neck. Then Barkley weakened and swerved to the outside. Several times he bumped Bugier, but the Hayes colt drew steadily ahead and passed the finish in a gallop, the wavering Barkley coming in second, while Rainland could get but third place.

Goldblatt rushed to the stand and the spisode followed which resulted in his losing the money he had earned by running third. Rainland seemed to limp slightly as he was led away, but may have strained his leg a trifle by suddenly getting in the soft going.

he was carried into the going in the Derby.

Troxier also rode Charley Thompson in the fourth race. He did not happen to strike a soft spot on this occasion, and his mount came home first. Kindred was favorite, but could not raise a gallop. He was sent to last in a five-horse field, and was passed by Outlaw, who was practically left at the post.

Miss Powell, from the Baker stable, won the first race nicely. Zinda, from the Hayes stable, was an odds-on favorite at post time and was well in the lead when the bad going was reached. Her story was then a repetition of later races—she lost her position instantly and was passed by the field, which ran on the harder going. Tickful suffered in the same manner in the second race, when he was in a commanding position.

Lynch was the best horse in the sixth race and should have won. Lord Tennyson came home ahead of him. John Doyle came home first in the last race.

THE MESSENGER WINS HANDICAP

Defeats Macbeth and Labor in Handy Style at Odds of 7 to 1 -Erbe First in a Gallop.

The Messenger handily won the feature at Union Park yesterday, defeating such horses as Macbeth and Labor. Messenger heavily played at as good as 7 to 1. and the books suffered.

The Messenger was out Thursday and Friday, and, although heavily backed by the talent at even money and odds-on, good price of 7 to 1. The Messenger won in Macbeth ran a grand race, but war un able to cope with the winner in the final test. Labor got a stupid ride from Adams and finished nowhere in the race. Kunja ran in front for a mile, and that was al the game mare could do. Red Light, handicapped by light weight, ran third. It was a pretty race, but was all The Kunja got off in front and maintained her lead to the mile, when she plainly showed that she was all out, and The Messenger and Macbeth took up the chance. The former was the best by a length at the finish.

Animosity, as good as 15 to 1, was the best bet of the day, but the talent did not seem to know it. The majority of bettors went to Boomerack at 3 to 5, and Miss Gould at 2 to 1. Animosity closed in the betting at 12 to 1.

Animosity was best and won in a drive from Miss Gould. Beomerack got off badly and overdid himself trying to catch up. W. B. Gates ran a good race and showed that he was something of a sprinter. Dona Bella ran a good five furiongs, but could not held out.

Inspector Shea won the first race handly and was really the best bet of the day. In the second race, after many tickets had been given out in the books, it was discovered that J. A. Baker had two horses entered not coupled in the betting, in Lolla Dally and Little Pirate, and time was allowed for a new book. Wahpeta won the race handily.

After several bad races, Rio Chico came to life in the fifth race and won against the heavily-played odds-on favorite, Bud Embry.

Erbe, probably the best, won the last the heavily-played odds-on favorite, Bud Embry.

Erbe, probably the best, won the last race. Establish, a second choice, ridden by Rufer, a boy who seems entirely incompetent, got off first, but, despite his speed and light weight, ran a miserable race. Rufer has fallen off two horses on the fiat, and usually comes in hanging to the horse's mane, learful that he will not be able to finish in the saddle.

Rufer rode Star Cotton, a horse which had an excellent chance in the first race, but Star Cotton finished next to last.

The attention of Judge Brady was yesterday called to the rides given certain horses, but he said that the young "jocks" must be schooled.

large crowd, the grand stand and the betting ring being thronged. Well-played horses were generally successful.

The feature of the card was the mileand-a-furlong handicap. It resulted in a head victory for Caronal, an 8-to-1 shot, he beating Veterano in a drive. Joe Lesser, who, coupled with G. W. Trahern, was favorite, finishing third. Jones, on Veterano, made a claim of foul against the winner, but it was not allowed.

The stewards felt the improvement of Caronal was rather sudden and suspended

The coach horse purchased at $1,150 went to J. M. Brownback of Decatur, Ill., and was one of the most phenomenally acting horses ever sold at St. Louis.

The sale, as a whole, goes on record as having been one of the most remarkable ever held in the West. There was never so large a percentage of good horses offered in a special sale, and they brought more money than ever before in the history of the St. Louis market, it is said. About 400 head were sold for an approximate total of $8,000. More than 200 head sold at $200 and over, sixty-five of which brought from $300 to $1,450.

The most important sales were as follows:

The Warrensburg School had only two boys in the competitions, and while Bliss boys in the compenious, and while suss succeeded in winning the mile run from McCarthy of M. S. M. and Christy of the C. B. C. the local boys outclassed the others in nearly ever contest.

In the first event, the 109-yard dash, Hastedt, the local boy, won from his clarsmate, Behrens, in the latter's time of 192-5 seconds for the distance. This was unlooked for, but the race was close.

In the 880-yard run, Christy, the only entry from the local college, was a strong opponent, and led for about half the distance, but in the stretch fell back to second place, and was besten out of this position by only a few yards. He evidently thought that he had a good lead on the third man and slackened his pace.

The pole-vault was easy for the C. B. C. boys, Pehrens, P. Ratican and Downes finishing in one, two, three order. They had to vault only eighty-six inches to beat the out-of-town at heletes.

The relay race was the greatest feature of the day. Hastedt and Hays led off. They kept an even pace around the track, and the work was resumed by Ratican and Breckenridge. The former slackened somewhat, and at the finish mark the Missouri boy led by ten feet. Kyle, who ran with Wilfley, gained somewhat, but when they reached the start Easley got the better start of the next runners, and by the time that he and Behrens were I alf way around the track the former was leading by at least twenty yards. Not Until the Last Event is Her Supremacy Established.

New York, May 7.—Track and field athletes representing the universities of Pennsylvania and Columbia came together in a dual meet here at Southfield to-day and after a spirited and close contest, Columbia won, 14½ to 45½.

No records were broken, nor even equaled, but in every event the contestants were keenly on edge and up to the final contest, the broad jump, only three points separated the rival teams.

This jump was won by R. S. Stangiand of Columbia.
